

WALLACE AWARD

The Wallace Award is named for past Vermont Farm Bureau President, Keith Wallace and is presented annually in the spirit of recognizing Vermont's finest agriculturists.

First presented in 1975, this highest award given by Vermont Farm Bureau honors individuals or couples for their distinguished lifetime service to agriculture. To nominate an individual for this award, please write a letter of recommendation with attached biographies or other supplemental materials and forward to:

Vermont Farm Bureau
Attn: Chris O'Keefe
117 West Main Street
Richmond, VT 05477

We highly encourage counties to resubmit previous nominations.

One entry per county, please. Send by October 1, 2018.
